The new Audi A3 Sportback

Available with the same 1.9 TDIe and 2.0 TDI engines and trim levels as the A3 3-door, and with similarly impressive economy and emissions, the A3 Sportback offers the added practicality of five doors.

Currently, an upgrade to Sport trim is available free of charge on 1.9 TDIe models, adding equipment such as 17" alloy wheels, dual-zone climate control, sports suspension, front sports seats and a 3-spoke multi-function leather steering wheel with MP3.

‘Five-door practicality with strong economy and low CO2.’

Quality, prestige, style: three characteristics that sum up the new Audi A3 Cabriolet.

With the same refreshed frontal styling as the A3 and A3 Sportback, the Cabriolet is available with a choice of three engines with CO₂ emissions of 140g/km or less: 1.9 TDI 105PS, 2.0 TDI 140 PS and 1.8 TFSI 160PS. Coupled with a top that folds away in just 11 seconds to reveal a stylish, high quality interior, the new A3 Cabriolet offers the best in open-air motoring.

‘Style and sophistication with superb economy and low CO₂ emissions.’

The new Audi A6 Avant blends all the improvements of the new A6 Saloon with an impressive load area of no less than 1,660 litres with rear seats folded.

The stylish new looks belie its outstanding practicality, making the A6 Avant a true dual-purpose car. With the luxury you would expect from a top executive model, the Avant offers identical trim availability to the Saloon and the same attractive offers. As with the 2.0 TDIe Saloon, the Avant is also available with an upgrade to SE at no extra cost, subject to availability.

‘Stylish looks go with a generous loadspace for a true dual-purpose car.’

The Audi TT Coupé

The iconic Audi TT Coupé is now available with a potent 2.0 TDI 170PS engine with quattro four-wheel drive.

Performance is impressive, with a top speed of 140mph (where permitted) and 0-62mph in 7.5secs. Yet combined consumption is a remarkable 53.3mpg and CO₂ emissions of 139g/km enable the TT Coupé 2.0 TDI quattro to qualify for BIK tax in the 18% band in 2009/10.

‘Iconic style with exceptional performance and economy.’
